

A Cup of Cold Water
November 16, 2017
President's Report

Archdeacon Steve Costa has purchased 100 slippers for ACCW at a large discount. Hopefully this relationship will continue for towels and other often used items.

New van seat covers are ordered, total cost $280. Mahalo to Sean Foley for research and order.

The annual meeting date is Tuesday, April 10, 2018 at Good Shepherd Church. Please put it on your calendar.

Budget meeting is Thursday, December 14 at Good Shepherd. The committee consists of Keku Akana, Jeanne Abe, Barb Zipf, Leah Sarne. Please submit requests and ideas by December 11 to me.

Chili Cookoff—Holy Innocents, Saturday, Nov. 25, 11a-3p. Chili, music, bake sale, fun. Portion of proceeds to ACCW. Van, run leader, run riders will be there. People will be invited to tour the van. ACCW will also have a table stacked with information. Come have fun, wear your blue shirt.

New date for Tasteful Benefit. Saturday, January 27, Trinity by the Sea, 4:30p-8:30p.

To continue the rotation of churches, St. John's would host the Volunteer mahalo party for 2018. I will be contacting Jeanne Fiddes to secure a date. I would appreciate suggestions on month of year to hold it as weather might be an issue.

I am attending the ongoing community meetings regarding the homeless in Kihei. KHAKO has some funds for "brick and mortar." Kelly King, South Maui representative on County Council is organizing meetings.

As part of The National Hunger and Homelessness Awareness Week, ACCW was represented by 3 volunteers at the Candlelight Vigil Wednesday, and the van and 3 volunteers are participating in the Resource Fair Thursday.

Keku Akana will be supervising the installation of the air conditioning unit for the Supply room.

The lock box for check and cash donations is ready to be installed in the Good Shepherd office.

Paula Baldwin